

There is an immediate need for Christian Ministry in the world of the business and professional person.

The workplace has “an evangelistic need greater than almost any ethnic group on earth. The workplace is a place of opportunity – a place to express the compassion of the gospel in word and deed, to challenge non-biblical thinking and practice, to grow in faith and character and love”

(Mark Greene, Thank God It's Monday)

The LifeQuality Ministry in the Workplace workshop assists Christian professionals by:

- Awakening the professional and businessperson to use the opportunities afforded them daily to be more like Jesus in their workplace.
- Helping the body of Christ find meaning and purpose in their daily work.
- Motivate them to realize that God is using them day-by-day.
- Showing them that God is pleased when they use the talents and abilities God has given them at work.
- Giving them knowledge they can “take to work” to help build spiritual bridges.

“Ministry
in the Workplace”

A revolutionary seminar that awakens the Christian professional or businessperson to the “harvest” in their workplace.

You’ll discover.....

The workplace is God’s place and why. Is there a division between the public world of work and the private world of faith in God’s eyes?

What is work? The bible defines work in terms greater than merely earning a wage.

The purposes of work. Work is not a curse. One reason we work is to develop our gifts and skills, to express ourselves through the tasks we do, and to gain satisfaction from a job well done.

Biblical examples of Christians in the workplace. How did Daniel create a “win-win” situation at work? What were Samson and Joseph’s attitudes while dealing with the unbelievers in their workplace? What did they both discover?

Is your occupation listed in the Bible? Was everyone in the bible a farmer or fisherman? What about you and your occupation? You might be surprised!

Ministry in the Workplace, based on Thank God It's Monday, by Mark Greene, is one of several seminars offered through LifeQuality International. One or more of our specially trained LifeQuality facilitators leads each seminar.
